Fierce Fight Rages As Nazis Battle to Break Baltic Trap

Reds Continue General Advance on 1,000-mile Front But War in Italy Simmers Down - - - Allied Bombers Spread Destruction Over Naziland

Russian armies were smashing ahead on the winding 1,000-mile explosive front, but in spots they were having a tough time of it and the Nazis battled desperately to keep the Reds from barging on into their homeland.

Meanwhile, on the south side of Hitler's European fortress, fighting continued on a much smaller and less vicious scale and Allied bombers kept swarming over Naziland from bases on the west and south.

Western France held the spotlight of the day's war news as Allied invasion forces surged on through the immediate region around Paris. In southern France, too, the war was going well for the invading forces, but successes were not so spectacular.

Washington to Blame for Pearl Harbor Attack, House Committee Told

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—Rep. Church (R-Ill.) told the house today that the full story of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, "will shock the world" and added:

"Washington was to blame."

Church spoke in connection with a public letter addressed to Senator Truman (D-Mo.) by Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel who was removed from active command after the Pearl Harbor disaster. Kimmel told Truman a report on the attack prepared under the chairmanship of Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the supreme court "does not contain the basic truths of the Pearl Harbor catastrophe and that a magazine article by Truman contained 'false statements'."

Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, army commander in Hawaii at the time of the Japanese attack, both await court martial on charges of dereliction of duty.

CHURCHILL PRAISES AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Jap and Negro Fighters in Italy Commended

ROME, Aug. 21.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill praised the American Fifth Army today as one of the great striking forces of the Allied nations and paid a special compliment to U. S. troops of Japanese and Negro ancestry.

Churchill paid his tribute to the Fifth after witnessing a parade of the famed 34th infantry division. "The 34th was the first, and among the first, of all United States troops to leave the new world and carry by their sacrifices and valor the precious blessing of freedom and justice to lands enslaved," the Prime Minister said.

ARMED FORCES OF U. S. MAY BACK WORLD SECURITY

Postwar Peace Plan Meeting Opens With American Participation Offered

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull opened the history-making postwar security talks today with a declaration that the organization of peace must be backed by force "available promptly, in adequate measure, and with certainty."

His assertion in a prepared address indicated the United States is entering the four-power meetings with plans for strong commitments on the use of its own forces in support of world security for generations to come.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British representative, appealed for the British, American, Soviet and Chinese governments to act speedily in erecting a world peace structure in order to get some of it working before the war ends.

"Events are moving fast and peace may come sooner than some expect," Cadogan said in his prepared speech. "It would be folly to delay the construction of at least some framework of future international cooperation until the problems of peace confront us with all their insistency."

The delegates were gathered at Dumbarton Oaks, historic Washington estate.

Expressly speaking for President Roosevelt as well as himself, Hull as official host opened the first session—the first international meeting to block out a security organization since formal work started on the ill-fated League of Nations 25 years ago. Cadogan and Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, Soviet representative, spoke in response to Hull, who then turned over the leading American role to Under-secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Both Hull and Cadogan sought to reassure small nations as to their position in the projected world agency. It was on this point that Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, last week warned against big-power coercion.

"It cannot be emphasized too often," Hull said, "that the principle of sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, irrespective of size and strength, as partners in a system of order under law, must constitute the foundation of any future international organization for the maintenance of peace and security."

SON OF JOHN F. NOLAN TAKES FATHER'S POST

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 21.—(P)—John J. Nolan, 26, has succeeded his father, the late John F. Nolan, as chairman of the Jefferson County Democratic Executive Committee.

The executive committee made the selection yesterday. The son is serving with the marines on the west coast and during his absence Attorney C. L. Hawthorne will act as chairman and campaign manager.

The elder Nolan was a political power in eastern Ohio for 20 years. He was fatally scalded in a hotel bathtub at Chicago during the National Convention.

Patriots Praised By Paratrooper Who Went 15 Days Before Invasion

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN OUTPOST IN SOUTHERN FRANCE, Aug. 21.—(P)—Capt. Mills Brandes of Sandusky, O., related today that he ran up and down so many mountains, through streams and rocks fighting Germans for two weeks before troops invading southern France caught up with him that his shoes wore out.

The husky Ohioan wore bed-room slippers while relating how he and his squad of 14 men parachuted into southern France 15 days before the invasion there to direct Patriot activities inland from the beachhead.

Brandes was lavish in his praise of the Maquis who prepared the way for the Americans whose task was to cut German

Four Big Bombers Out of Sizeable Flight Lost in Daylight Attack—Heavy Nip Cruiser Sunk by Liberator and Yank Fliers Smash Enemy Aerial Defenses of Philippines During Week End of Serious Set-backs for Japs

Superfortresses jolted the home islands of Japan with a double punch Sunday, a Liberator sank a 14,200-ton Japanese cruiser and Gen. MacArthur's persistent airmen finished off enemy aerial defenses guarding the southern Philippines.

These wounds, inflicted in a weekend series of assaults from

In the first daylight operation against Japan proper since the 1942 Doolittle raid, the Superforts of the 20th airforce got "good" results in a strike at the industrial area of Yawata on Kyushu. Apparently it was the heaviest raid yet against Japan. Tokyo said 30 planes were involved, claimed negligible damage and downing of 25 planes. The army said four B-29s were lost. Enemy fighters strongly resisted and anti-aircraft fire was moderate to intense.

8-MILE DEATH PLUNGE BY PARACHUTE TESTER BLAMED ON BLACKOUT

DAYTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—The eight-mile death plunge of Lt. Col. Melbourne W. Boynton Saturday apparently was caused by a "blackout," the materiel command of the army airforce at Wright Field reported today.

Boynton, 39 year old chief of the medical safety division of the office of flying safety, did not pull the ripcord on either of two parachutes, the command said after an examination.

Boynton plunged through the bomb bay of a Flying Fortress at 42,000 feet in an experimental leap at the Clinton County Army Airbase near Wilmington. He plunged straight to the ground, landing two minutes and 35 seconds later in a cornfield before 100 witnesses.

The materiel command said it was 58 degrees below zero at the height from which Boynton leaped and he apparently "blacked out" and did not recover consciousness in time to open a chute. The command said his oxygen equipment was in good working condition.

Nazi Girl Soldier's Body Is Found Beside Tank

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, Normandy, August 21.—(P)—The first German "Amazon" definitely identified as fighting with the Wehrmacht, apparently as a member of a tank crew, was found dead during the battle of the Normandy bulge.

A British stretcher bearer reported today: "A woman soldier was discovered when British burial squads were going over the scene of the bitter tank battle in the Vire sector between Viessoix and Bury."

"Her flaxen hair had rolled out of her steel helmet and fallen to her shoulders. She was in full German uniform and wore trousers, field boots and a small pack in battle order. On her jacket was a silver star, a type of badge not often seen on Germans, and the epaulets of her tunic had the braid of a corporal."

City Being Circled By American Tanks In Slashing Drives

In Southern France, Marseille and Toulon Being Squeezed By Second Invasion Forces as They Deepen and Widen Beachheads—Germans Caught in Normandy Trap Face Annihilation; French Capital May Be By-passed

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

(By the Associated Press)

Defiant French Patriots were reported today to have hoisted Allied flags in Paris as Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's armor threatened a wide outflanking movement of the historic capital, and revolt seethed within the enslaved city. Armored columns of Yanks stabbed out on both sides of Paris.

In the south of France, meanwhile, more landings may be in the making. Three Allied light cruisers shelled the almost non-existent German defenses at Bayonne in the southwest Atlantic coast corner of France, and the Berlin radio reported the shelling and aerial bombing of the southern coast area between Marseille and Toulon, which it said might indicate new landings.

Patton's left wing today threw a bridgehead across the Seine, 25 miles northwest of Paris, smashing open a path to the flying bomb coast 90 miles more to the north. His right wing raced to the Seine southeast of Paris on a broad front, threatening a wide encirclement which could sweep behind the enslaved capital to the historic World War I battlefields of the Marne, Soissons and Reims.

Third Army armored units officially were reported operating in the vicinity of Versailles, ten miles from the heart of Paris and scene of the signing of the World War I peace treaty.

Troops in Suburbs

Berlin said Allied reconnaissance forces already were operating in the Paris suburbs. The city itself seethed with revolt. German machine guns were turned on students and patriots who rose up against the occupation forces, and as huge fires were reported blazing throughout the city, a front dispatch said Patton was urged to come to their aid as quickly as possible.

But capture of Paris apparently was incidental to the Allied command's major objective—destruction of the German Seventh Army and of reinforcements drawn from the 15th which has been guarding the robot bomb coast.

Elements of 14 Nazi divisions, remnants of the broken Seventh Army now were in a death struggle in the Falaise pocket in Normandy, narrowed to an area of 60 square miles. The Germans attempted desperately to break out of the trap but were smashed back today by combined efforts of Canadian troops and rocket-firing Typhoons, after a violent night-long battle with casualties heavy on both sides.

WAR CORRESPONDENT IS KILLED IN ACTION

Tom Treanor Meets Death on Road to Paris

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(P)—Tom Treanor, war correspondent for the Los Angeles Times and the National Broadcasting Co., has been killed on the road to Paris.

Advices to Supreme Headquarters in London said it was reported one other American correspondent had been killed and three wounded.

Treanor's death was announced from France by John MacVane, another NBC reporter there, who said the jeep in which Treanor was riding was run over by an American tank.

"Tom was where he wanted to be, at the very tip of the units of the American Third Army pushing toward Paris. There were Germans behind him and all around him," MacVane added.

"It was his great ambition to be the first radio correspondent to reach Paris and send the word back to the people back home."

Treanor recently published a book of his experiences as a war correspondent, called "One Damned Thing After Another."

NAZI CASUALTIES 109,575 IN AUGUST

Patton's Third Army Gets Credit for Them

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 21.—(P)—Lt. Gen. Patton's U. S. Third Army has inflicted 109,575 casualties on the Germans since Aug. 1 in his dash across Brittany and Northern France to the outskirts of Paris.

The Third Army has captured 49,650, killed 11,025 and wounded an estimated 48,900. The losses constitute a total of about 11 Nazi divisions in their present, depleted state.

Information was lacking today on most of Patton's columns, probably through France like the arms of an octopus.

TURKISH LEND-LEASE IS RESUMED BY USA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The United States has removed export bans imposed on Turkey and is facilitating the shipment of civilian goods on a cash basis to the neutral which broke relations with Germany two weeks ago.

It was also learned today that shipment of military items under lendlease is expected to be resumed shortly, depending on the Allied supply situation as a result of the French campaigns.

The majority of lend-lease sent to Turkey is of British origin, but the decision to start shipments is up to the combined munitions assignment board.

The United States and Britain stopped sending military aid to Turkey several months ago after negotiations between British and Turkish military delegations broke down.

2,000,000 MAY BE OUT OF ARMY AFTER NAZIS FALL

DENVER, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, today forecast release of between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 men from the armed services after Germany falls.

He endorsed the idea of "gradual demobilization" when all hostilities cease with Japan's defeat, but admitted that it is "unpopular" because when the war is over, people want their boys to come home.

JUST TO BE FREE IS ALL REFUGEE PRINCESS ASKS

Granddaughter of King Now Saleswoman in New York; Loves America's Bigness

By ADELAIDE KERR NEW YORK —(AP)—Granddaughter of a Danish king, wife of a Bourbon prince, refugee from Nazi Europe, and now a saleswoman in one of New York's smart specialty shops!

That's Princess Rene de Bourbon Parme, born Princess Margarete of Denmark, cousin of King Christian X and wife of a prince who stems from the ducal line of a house that gave France and Spain their Bourbon kings.

Six days a week you will find her selling dresses in the custom department of a 57th Street shop (Jay Thorpe). She dresses as most saleswomen do, in a starkly simple black crepe frock with one string of pearls, and her dark brown hair very simply waved. But if she helped you choose a dress, you would find less of the grand duchess manner than you meet from the saleswomen in many first-class shops, more friendliness and more punch in her smile.

The princess considers herself a very lucky woman. And she told why the other day as she took a few minutes' rest between customers for a smoke. "Just to be here, free, to have a home and to work—it's wonderful," she said. "Why do I work? Why, everybody must work. I had many friends and they offered to help me. I think it's very sweet and I never forget it. But I would never think of my friends that way."

When the day's work is done the princess walks a few blocks to the little apartment where she lives with her 16-year-old son, Andre, now in school in Lenox, Mass. All the rest of the family are at war. Her husband is a captain in the French army, now fighting in Italy. Jacques, 22, is serving with the Norwegian Air Force in Canada; Anne, 20, is a member of the Rochambeau Unit of women ambulance drivers in Africa and Michel, 18, is a paratrooper with the French army. (The telegram that told of his special citation for courage goes to work with his mother in her bag, and is just as thumb-worn as yours would be.)

Princess de Bourbon and her family left France four years ago after the Nazi invasion. Her husband went in one direction with the three younger children. The princess traveled in another direction with Jacques and the family bulldog, Spot, which she chose to take instead of two fur coats. They spent five days on the way from Paris to Bordeaux.

Eventually the family met in Lisbon and flew to New York, where Princess de Bourbon found a job in a hat shop and her husband got another in the perfume business.

"After that he smelled of perfume, the dog smelled of perfume," said the princess with a glint in her hazel eyes. "But nobody cared. We found a little apartment, and moved in. Oh, we were so happy! At last we had a home. We each had a camp bed and a chair—and nobody was allowed to sit in the other one's chair."

"I love this country—the bigness of everything. You feel you are living with a rush. Of course I want to go home to Paris when the war ends. But America will always seem part my home too. Someday I shall want to come back."

MOTHER WRITES POEM FOR SON ON SAIPAN

Pvt. Kenneth E. Penwell, son of Mrs. Nellie Williams of Bloomingburg, saw his first action on Saipan. He is the first of Mrs. Williams' three sons to see combat duty.

Pvt. Kenneth Penwell

Pvt. Penwell entered the army in February, 1943 and since then has been stationed in Hawaii for a year before being stationed on Saipan.

His mother dedicated a poem to her son. The poem is:

WONDERING

As I sit here thinking at the close of another day

Dear Kenneth, I feel so lonesome since you have left so far away.

As I kneel down at night to pray I am thinking of my dear boy who is so far away.

And I wonder and fear to say What might befall my dear boy today.

As my other friends gather round me There is none so dear to me as he.

Then I wonder how my dear boy can be.

The Allied left flank. British troops swept into Cabourg and were battling for possession of the town, which lies about 25 miles from the Seine's mouth, and farther inland British and Canadians thrust within three miles of the communications hub of Liseux.

Southern Ports Besieged

In the south of France the great naval base of Toulon virtually was encircled by hard-driving French troops. American infantry was within 15 air miles of Marseilles, and other Americans sped toward Aix-en-Provence, key road junction whose capture would cut one of the last major retreat routes for the Germans at Marseilles, and open the gateway to Avignon and the Rhone valley, logical route for a juncture with Allied armies in the north.

The Algiers radio said French Partisans had captured Toulouse, sixth largest French city. Officially, Lt. Gen. Joseph Koenig, chief of the French forces of the interior, said the Maquis now command a third of France.

The Americans sped forward on both sides of the town of Pertuis, 11 miles north of Aix-en-Provence across the Durance River, and joined French patriots who had surrounded Nazi troops within the town.

Warships Shell Toulon

The German radio said Allied warships shelled Toulon yesterday. It claimed hits on one of "several" battleships and one cruiser by Nazi shore batteries which, it was claimed, also struck a destroyer and a torpedo boat.

A dispatch from Joseph Dynan, Associated Press correspondent with French troops driving on Toulon, said French command, joined with patriot forces and former members of the French navy, were dominating the Faron area just north of Toulon.

The Nazi garrison in Hyeres, about 8 1/2 miles east of Toulon, was virtually isolated, Dynan said.

The Germans have given no indication of strength or determination to make a real stand in or near the mouth of the Rhone valley, the natural invasion highway for a juncture with Gen. Eisenhower in northern France.

The eastern sector of the bridgehead facing toward Cannes and the Italian frontier was reported "mostly stable," without reference to new gains.

The count of prisoners passed the 14,000 mark and more were coming in hourly.

Among the newest captives were Maj. Gen. Hans Schubert and his entire staff of six officers and 30 men. Schubert, chief of a district liaison staff, was, until June, chief administrative officer for southwest France with headquarters at Toulouse, and had established a reputation for "extreme cruelty," Gen. Patch's headquarters said.

MINE RESCUE WORK ORDERED SUSPENDED

BELLAIRE, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Rescue work was at a standstill again today at the Powhatan mine, where efforts to recover the bodies of 66 miners trapped by fire July 5 have been suspended to guard against an explosion.

Rescue workers who had been idle since Saturday, when the operations first were suspended, reported for duty this morning but were not permitted to enter the shaft because outside air continued to leak past barricades erected inside the entry to seal off the section where the underground fire is burning.

Officials said that due to a change in atmospheric pressure the oxygen content of the air within the mine was too high and the rescue work would be suspended until conditions improved.

WITH AN AIRBORNE TASK FORCE IN SOUTHERN FRANCE, Aug. 16—(Delayed)—(AP)—An hour and a half before the seventh army was due to strike the coast of France we jumped.

It was a relief, after three hours of sitting in tight rows in our C-47s, to see the red light go on near the door.

We stood up, stumbling some because of the plane lurched a good deal, and hooked our life lines to the cable. I was No. 7 in the 15 men to jump.

There was no moon but it was not a dark night. Peering over the shoulders of the men in front of me I saw the coastline of France slip past, then some mist and some

CLEVELAND COPS TO STUDY ADOLESCENCE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—(AP)—This city's policemen are going back to school—to learn methods of combating school-age criminals and delinquents.

Sponsored by the Ohio Police Chiefs' Association, Cleveland Police Academy and Western Reserve University, about 35 officers will enroll in September in an initial class at downtown Cleveland College.

Termed "one of the first police schools to deal with the cause of crime instead of its effects," the course will include studies in adolescent behavior, mental and social habits and use of cooperating social agencies.

"There's a telephone

in the house where I am

moving Can you

connect it for me ?"

IN days of ample telephone facilities, when someone moved, we left the telephone in place so that it might be connected for the next person moving in. Today it is a different story. There is a serious shortage of the many items which go to make up telephone service, including telephone instruments. Production of all telephone equipment was stopped to enable the manufacturers to go into full war production.

As a result, subscribers' unfilled orders are mounting daily. Many persons will be required to do without service for the duration—and longer as the end of the war will not solve our problem. Telephones in vacant houses or apartments must be recovered and installed elsewhere for someone on our waiting list. The only fair way is to give everyone service in his proper turn.

Every telephone, which is recovered and put back into service, brings your installation closer. Your co-operation in aiding our installers to remove left-in instruments enables us to use all available facilities efficiently. Thanks for your help.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The German disaster in Western Europe has intensified over the week end, both in the Paris theater and in Southern France.

One of the most notable developments is the establishment of a bridgehead across the Seine at Mantes, 25 miles northwest of the capital, by one of Patton's armored columns. This was achieved while other American units continued their sweep around the south of Paris, thus threatening to flank the nerve center of France.

The cutting of the Seine at Mantes is of vast importance strategically. It means that the remnants of Nazi Field Marshal Von Kluge's battered 7th Army, which have been retreating toward the Seine from the Normandy defeat, are now in a huge bowl-shaped trap whose lid is the river and a short stretch of coast southwest of the Seine's mouth.

Since all the bridges have been destroyed by the Allied airforces, the only means the Nazis have of escaping is by barges—and our bombers are circling the sky ready to pounce on them. Last night German troops tried to cross the Seine at several points between Elbeuf—near Rouen—and the sea under cover of darkness, but Royal Airforce warplanes got at them.

While this presents a grim picture we shouldn't assume that none of the Germans can escape. Probably considerable numbers already have made the crossing and others are likely to do so. Once they're on the northern bank of the Seine they will join strong elements of the Nazi Fifteenth Army which is holding there.

However, the retreat will be terribly costly in men and equipment for the Hitlerites. Moreover, with Paris virtually flanked, the Nazis will have difficulty in defending any part of the line of the Seine. If they can't hold this line they will have to beat a retreat northward, taking their English Channel forces with them.

In short, the Germans are in a nasty predicament which presages a wholesale withdrawal to their inner defenses on the Rhine.

Proof that there's still plenty of fight left in the Hitlerites came last night when the forces which are surrounded in the Falaise trap in Normandy made a determined attempt to break out. The Canadians took them on, and a fierce battle raged throughout the night, with heavy casualties on both sides. Dawn found the Canadians the victors and today the trapped troops are under terrific fire from rocket-flying typhoons and Canadian artillery.

The drive into Southern France is going supremely well. The great naval base of Toulon is virtually surrounded by French troops, while American infantry is heading into the Valley of the Rhone with the port of Marseille only about fifteen miles away on its left.

The meeting in New York City today between Willkie, the party's 1940 presidential nominee, who has not said whether he will support Dewey, and Dulles, who may be the next secretary of state if the Republicans win in November, far overshadowed in public interest Dewey's latest advocacy of postwar internationalization of the rich Ruhr Valley, the throbbing industrial heart of Germany.

HERBERT WILSON OFFICER IN OHIO FORTY AND EIGHT

Elected at First Day of State American Legion Convention

Herbert E. Wilson, commander of the Paul H. Hughey Post 25 of the American Legion here, today is the sous chef de train of the Grande Voiture D'Ohio of the 40 et 8. He was elected Sunday in the first day of the Ohio American Legion's 26th annual convention in Columbus.

Among Washington C. H. Legionnaires attending the convention Sunday were Fred Dennison, Howard Fogle, Nick Van Vliet, Wilson, Chester Dunn, Robert Jefferson, Charles Eakins, Jess Allen, Charles Morgan, Jess Madux, Emmett Passmore, William Markley, Charles Burke, John Grier and Andrew Stewart. R. B. Tharp is still in Columbus.

Parade awards were passed out Monday as the convention swung into its second day.

The Franklin post band of Columbus was declared this year's outstanding marching band in yesterday's parade, which required 75 minutes to pass a reviewing stand in front of the statehouse. Canton's Legion band placed second.

Hundreds of veterans from World War I were joined by veterans of World War II, Legion auxiliary members and affiliated organizations in the colorful march.

Lt. Col. Raymond J. Kelley, past national commander of the American Legion, in an address last night called for adoption of measures to "strengthen our country—not as a military power, but as a peace-loving nation—against any force of greed and aggrandizement which may develop in the future."

He also reminded listeners that the Legion advocated compulsory military training for the nation's youth as a preparedness measure and that two bills to provide it were pending in congress.

Other parade awards included: Barnett Post, Norwood, best drum and bugle corps, and Summit Post, Akron, second; Barnett Post, best majorette and Iron Post, second; ninth district (Cleveland), first place for best marching unit; Toledo's Sons of American Legion drum and bugle corps, first, and Clifton Post, Lakewood, Sons of American Legion, second, for best Sons of Legion unit.

Clyde Irwin of Warren was named grand chef de garre by the grande voiture D'Ohio of the 40 et 8. Larry Garrison of Van Wert was elected grand conductor and A. J. Halloran of Springfield grand avocet.

Three drum majorettes were overcome by heat during closing moments of the parade. They were Dorothy Diehl, 16, and Jean Boyland, 14, both of Mansfield, and Eileen Campbell, 20, of Toledo.

With Dulles "I wish I had known of your desire for my views prior to your original statement."

He obviously alluded to Dewey's blast at reports that the four-power diplomatic conference opening today in Washington might be headed toward formation of a permanent military alliance that would dominate the world and deny small nations a voice in the future maintenance of peace.

The meeting in New York City today between Willkie, the party's 1940 presidential nominee, who has not said whether he will support Dewey, and Dulles, who may be the next secretary of state if the Republicans win in November, far overshadowed in public interest Dewey's latest advocacy of postwar internationalization of the rich Ruhr Valley, the throbbing industrial heart of Germany.

Monuments to Americans On Le Mans Battlefield

By HAL BOYLE

LE MANS, France, Aug. 17.—(Delayed)—(P)—There is a striking stone statue near the Cathedral in this town which arouses the curiosity of many American troops as their convoys wheel north to battle.

But they speed by so fast they are unable to read the inscription on the monument, which was erected in honor of one of the men responsible for development of the planes circling protectively over their heads—Wilbur Wright.

Early in the century, Wright and the distinguished French scientist, Leon Bollee, collaborated in a series of airplane experiments in a field near Le Mans.

Willkie said in his telegram that he had been assured 10 days ago by "Washington authorities" that the American government intends to insist on the protection of the position of small nations at the four-power conference. Dewey received similar public assurance from Hull.

FRENCH PATRIOTS PRAISED BY PARATROOPER WHO WENT 15 DAYS BEFORE INVASION

Americans also cut railroad and highway bridges over the Durance River. It was during those endeavors that Brandes' shoes wore out.

SUPPLIES PROVIDED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Aug. 21.—(P)—American heavy bombers have dropped "thousands of tons of arms, ammunition and other supplies; to French forces of the interior, the Eighth Air Force announced today.

"On several occasions, hundreds of heavy bombers of the U. S. 8th Airforce have dropped thousands of tons of supplies in containers in daylight by parachute to the Maquis deep in France," the announcement said, "Bastille Day, July 14, witnessed one of these large-scale missions."

The RAF has carried out hundreds of similar missions, it was announced.

The monument is a white marble shaft topped with the statue of a kneeling man with uplifted hands—symbolizing the human yearning to fly. On the base in bas-relief are likenesses of Wright, his brother, Orville, and Bollee.

The memorial has been kept neat through four years of German occupation. The townspeople have planted a border of red geraniums about the base and the monument is surrounded by a padlocked iron gate.

This monument shows no signs of defacement, but several miles outside the town stands another to Wilbur Wright which has been struck, but not badly damaged, by machinegun bullets and small shells. The latter stands near the site of early flying tests, and was erected by the Aero-Club De France.

It is a large box-shaped chunk of dark granite bearing on one side the inscription: "Wilbur and Orville Wright, Kittyhawk, December, 1903."

of the city, and have captured some vital positions to the northeast, front dispatches said.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukraine Army, thrusting up the west bank of the Vistula, liquidated the trapped Germans north of Sandomierz. "As the enemy refused to surrender, most of the encircled enemy troops were killed," the Russian war bulletin declared.

The victory freed Konev's forces for a possible drive either southwest of the rail fortress of Krakow, north toward Warsaw, or directly west across the Polish plains toward German Silesia, which would snap the Polish capital's communication lines.

The slight Red army reverse occurred in the Jelgava sector near the Gulf of Riga, where 144 German tanks and self-propelled guns were reported knocked out.

In Estonia, Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic Army, capturing more than 150 populated places, drove to within seven miles of Tartu on the Tallinn-Riga railway.

Battle Near Baltic
Below the Estonian sector in Latvia Gen. Andrei Yeremenko's second Baltic Army, sweeping up more than 70 places, advanced to within 55 miles east of Riga with the capture of Erglin on the Madonna-Riga railway.

Maslennikov and Yeremenko were hammering back the snared Nazis in the Baltics, cut off by Gen. Ivan C. Bagration's First Baltic Army drive that reached the Baltic Sea 25 miles west of Riga several weeks ago.

The German communique said today that Nazi tank formations pushing west of Tukums in Latvia had crashed through the Soviet corridor to the Baltic west of Riga and "re-established temporary contact" with the 30 or so German divisions in Latvia and Estonia.

The Russians at midnight admitted local reverses in that sector, but did not indicate that the corridor had been cut. The force of up to 300,000 Germans were severed from land communications several weeks ago. The Germans said a naval flotilla aided the tank force.

War in Italy
Polish forces on the Adriatic have advanced seven miles to within 12 miles of the Italian port of Pesaro, where eastern outposts of the Germans' trans-peninsular Gothic line are reputed to begin.

The Germans pulled their defenses behind the Mataro River, Gen. Alexander's headquarters announced. In the advance, the Poles captured Cerasa.

West of Florence, the Germans shelled Eighth Army positions south of the Arno River. Conditions within Florence were reported "somewhat quieter." Food and other provisions poured in for the citizens.

Air Attacks Continue
RAF Mosquitos and Mitchells raced up and down the Seine River all last night, bombing and strafing Nazi river bank troop concentrations and barges struggling across the 200-yard water barrier which impedes Germans fleeing Allied armies in France.

The Nazis' four principal crossings were hammered in flare-lit tree-top level attacks as the record scourge from the skies today swept into its fifth day, despite handicapping weather.

A line of barges extending for three fourths of a mile and reportedly salvaged from the abortive 1940 campaign to invade England was blasted near Quillebeuf. American fighter bombers in daylight and evening attacks knocked out 20 others.

A simultaneous night-long attack on the belt west of the Seine, through which the beaten Nazis are streaming from the Falaise trap, knocked out 136 vehicles and 16 tanks to bring the day's total for both the RAF and the U. S. Army Air Force to more than 350 vehicles and easily 100 tanks.

The original total barge force upon which the Germans are depending for their miniature Dunkerque over the bridgeless river was estimated at 1,200 to 1,500. The Germans also have used hinged pontoon bridges, which swing back against the shrub-shrouded river bank in the daytime, but these are very susceptible to bombing.

The attacks are taking place a scant 25 miles down the Seine from the American bridgehead.

In addition, the U. S. Ninth Air Force fighter bombers and the Eighth Fighter Command reported that the ten-day score up to Saturday night of German transport destroyed or damaged included 979 locomotives, 8,500 railroad cars, 1,233 vehicles and 281 armored vehicles.

About 500 American bombers set fire to two oil refineries in Poland and one in Czechoslovakia yesterday and for the first time encountered only a few enemy fighters over those heretofore fiercely defended regions.

The Fortresses bombed the big I. G. Farbenindustrie synthetic oil and rubber factory at Oswiec in Poland, about 30 miles west of Krakow, starting three great fires. The plant has a capacity of 62,500 tons of oil, annually.

The only aerial opposition against the big bombers came near Budapest, when less than 20 ME-109's and FW-190's jumped the Fortresses en route to Poland. Escorting Mustangs quickly drove them off.

The German communique said that Hungary as well as southeast Germany (Austria) was bombed last night and that some explosives crashed in the "upper Danube" area.

AN ORDINANCE

Relating to traffic in certain congested areas in the City of Washington, defining and regulating the parking of vehicles in certain areas in the City of Washington; providing for the designation of individual parking spaces, for the use of such parking spaces and for the use of mechanical parking time indicators in conjunction therewith.

WHEREAS, an emergency exists in the usual daily operation of the Department of Safety, and it becomes necessary to make provisions for the regulation of traffic and parking of vehicles in congested areas in the City of Washington, and

WHEREAS, because of the width of the streets in certain sections of the City of Washington, the free movement of traffic in the downtown business district is impeded, and

WHEREAS, previous attempts to regulate the parking in the aforesaid areas have not been as successful as is desirable because of the small number of traffic policemen available therefore, and

WHEREAS, because of the habit of numerous operators of motor vehicles by which they take advantage of the above situation by parking for unreasonable lengths of time in close proximity to other motor vehicles so parked on the most congested parts of the City's busiest streets and in addition thereto is unfair to other motorists and pedestrians and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of this council that the best way by which the above mentioned conditions may be remedied is by the designation of individual parking spaces in the said area, by providing for the use of mechanical parking time indicators in conjunction therewith, by restricting parking in said area to reasonable intervals of time and by compelling the operators of vehicles who enjoy the use of parking space so designated, pay a portion of the cost of establishing and maintaining the same; Now Therefore:

Be It Ordained by the Council of the City of Washington, State of Ohio,

SECTION 1: As used in this ordinance the following words shall be defined as follows:

"VEHICLE." Any device in, upon or by which any person or property is or may be transported upon a public highway, except such as are used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks and such devices as are propelled exclusively by human power.

"PARKING." The standing of a vehicle upon a street whether such vehicle is occupied or not and whether such vehicle be accompanied or not by an operator for a period of time in excess of two minutes.

"MECHANICAL PARKING TIME INDICATORS OR PARKING METERS." A device or devices which shall indicate thereon the length of time during which a vehicle may be parked in a particular place, which shall have as a part thereof a receptacle or chamber for receiving and storing coins of the United States money, a slot or place in which said coin may be deposited; a timing mechanism to indicate the passage of the interval of time during which parking is permissible and which shall also display an appropriate signal when the aforesaid interval of time shall have elapsed; also a brief instructions as to their operation.

"INDIVIDUAL PARKING SPACE." A portion of the paved surface of the Street of sufficient length and depth from the sidewalk curb to accommodate a vehicle to be parked as shall be specified and marked off by the City Manager of the City of Washington.

SECTION 2. Congested area. For the purpose of this Ordinance the "CONGESTED TRAFFIC AREA" is hereby declared to be from the East Side of North Street to the West Side of Hinde Street, and from the North Side of Market Street to the South Side of East Street, and Council hereby determines that because of the flow of traffic on the streets or portions of the streets within such area that parking therein shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 3. DESIGNATION OF INDIVIDUAL PARKING SPACES. The City Manager is hereby authorized and directed to designate and mark off such individual parking spaces as he deems proper along the streets in the Congested Traffic Area, for the parking of Vehicles. At each place where individual parking as so marked off, each vehicle shall be parked entirely within an individual parking space.

SECTION 4. PARKING METERS TO BE INSTALLED. The City Manager is hereby authorized and directed to place, install and remove parking meters upon the curb side, or in the immediate vicinity of individual parking spaces designated and marked off in the congested traffic area where parking is restricted. All such parking meters shall comply with the conditions set forth in the third (3rd) paragraph of Section 1 of this ordinance and said meters shall be under the management, supervision and control of the City Manager of the City of Washington.

SECTION 5. Regulation of PARKING IN INDIVIDUAL PARKING SPACES. Whenever a vehicle shall be parked in an individual parking space, where a parking meter has been installed, the person parking such vehicle shall deposit one cent coins, or a five cent coin of United States money in said parking meter, if such meter displays a signal showing that legal parking is only permitted on such deposit.

The City Manager shall in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, determine the length of time that parking is permissible in an individual parking space for which a meter is installed upon the deposit of one cent, two cents, three cents, four cents or five cents in the parking meter as herein before provided. Notice to the public shall be given by appropriate signs setting forth the length of time for which parking is permitted and the conditions thereof. These may be upon the parking meter stand or in the immediate vicinity. Any vehicle which remains in an individual parking space, after the prescribed time for parking is hereby determined to be illegally parked, but in no event shall it be considered illegal parking if the meter display signal shows that a proper deposit has been made for such parking.

The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to vehicles parked or standing upon the City Streets of the City of Washington in the congested areas hereinbefore designated when such vehicles are parked or standing on such streets between the hours of six P. M. in the evening until eight A. M. the following morning of each week day except Saturday when the provisions of this ordinance shall not apply, and between the hours of ten P. M. Saturday evening until eight A. M. the following Monday. The provisions of the ordinance shall not apply on Sundays and holidays.

SECTION 6. EVIDENCE. All parking is prohibited in any parking space where a meter is installed which displays a signal showing that parking is not permitted, unless a deposit of a one cent coin or coins and/or a five cent coin is made as herein provided. Any vehicle parked in contravention of this provision shall be deemed to be an illegal parking under the provisions of this ordinance. The fact that a vehicle is in an individual parking space when the time signal on the meter for the same shows no parking permitted, unless a deposit of a proper coin is made as herein provided shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the unlawful parking of such motor vehicle by its operator and, or, its owner.

SECTION 7. It shall be unlawful and a violation of the provisions of this ordinance for any person to cause, allow, permit or suffer any vehicle registered in the name of, or operated by such person to be parked overtime or beyond the period of legal parking time established for any parking meter zone as herein described.

SECTION 8. It shall be unlawful and a violation of the provisions of this ordinance for any person to permit a vehicle to remain or to be placed in any parking space adjacent to any parking meter while said parking meter is displaying a signal indicating that the vehicle occupying such parking space has already been parked beyond the period prescribed for such parking space.

SECTION 9. It shall be unlawful and a violation of the provisions of this ordinance for any person to deface, injure, tamper with, open or wilfully break, destroy or impair the usefulness of any parking meter installed under the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 10. It shall be unlawful and a violation of the provisions of this ordinance to deposit or cause to be deposited in any parking meter, any slug or device or metallic substance or any other substitute for a one cent or five cent coin of the United States.

SECTION 11. It shall be the duty of the police officers of the City of Washington, acting in accordance with the instructions issued by the City Manager of the City of Washington to report:

"A". The number of each parking meter which indicates that the vehicle occupying the parking space adjacent to such parking meter is or has been parking in violation of any provision of this ordinance.

"B". The State License number of such vehicle.

"C". The time during which such vehicle is parking in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

"D". Any other facts, a knowledge of which is necessary to a thorough understanding of the circumstances attending such violation.

Each officer shall also attach to such vehicle a notice to the owner or operator thereof that such vehicle has been parked in violation of the provisions of this ordinance and instructing the owner or operator to report to the Division of the Police Office of the City of Washington, Ohio, in regard to such violation. Each such owner or operator may within twenty-four hours of the time when such notice was attached to such vehicle pay to the Division of Police as a penalty for and in full satisfaction of such violation the sum of One Dollar. The failure of such owner or operator to make such payment within said twenty-four hours shall render such owner or operator subject to the penalties hereinafter provided for violation of the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 12. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance and any person who aids, abets or assists therein, shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of an amount not exceeding fifty ($50.00) dollars.

SECTION 13. The City Manager shall designate some member or members of the Police Department, or other person, to collect the coins deposited in parking meters. In collecting such coins, the person or persons so designated shall remove the sealed coin chamber or compartment from each parking meter and deliver the same to the City Treasurer of the City of Washington. The Treasurer of said City shall count the coins so delivered and deposit the same to the credit of the City of Washington.

SECTION 14. This ordinance shall be construed as a supplement to the general traffic ordinance and all other ordinances of the City of Washington regulating traffic, parking and the use of the streets, which shall be in force and effect in the congested district except insofar as modified by the provisions hereinbefore set forth. Any authority heretofore or hereafter exercised by the City of Washington under any ordinance rule or regulation restricting or prohibiting parking, independent of time limits, shall in no manner be affected by this ordinance or any of the provisions thereof. The purpose of this ordinance is to assist in the regulation of overtime parking by the use of parking meters and it shall be so construed.

Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as prohibiting The City of Washington from providing for free parking space for loading and unloading, for taxicabs, stands, and for other matters of similar nature.

SECTION 15. All sections of this ordinance shall be deemed to be separate and independent and the invalidity of any section or provision hereof shall not affect the remaining sections.

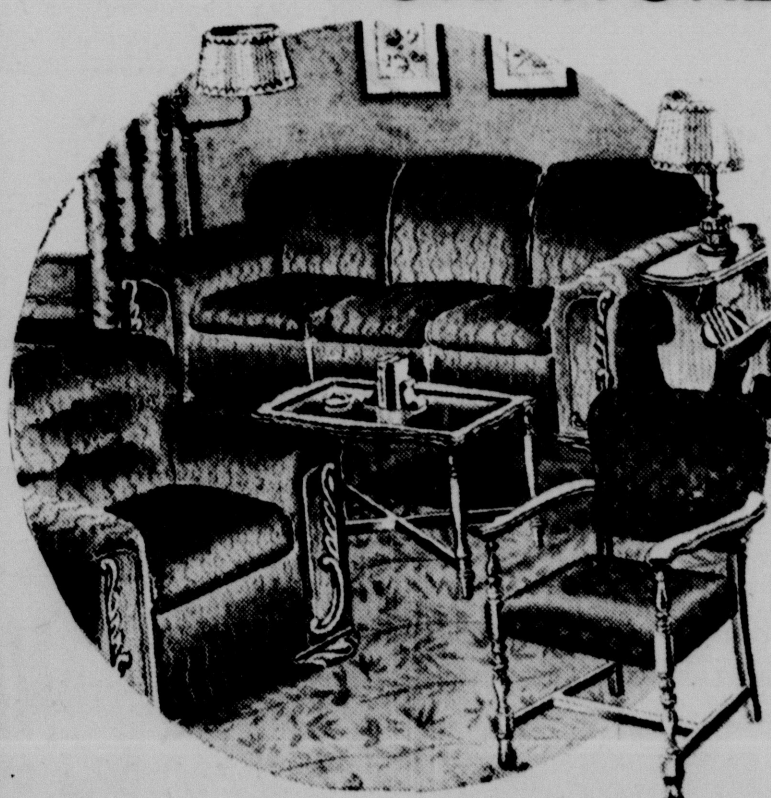

SECTION 16. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance be, and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 17. That for the reasons stated in the preamble hereto which is hereby made a part hereto, this ordinance if hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

Aircraft and Postwar Period

The aircraft manufacturing industry has come up with a broad postwar plan that is unique—the first offered to Congress by any war industry. It is unusual because Labor, the Army and Navy are approving of it generally, which means that it will be given close attention in postwar manpower demobilization and reconversion legislation.

The plan was outlined when aircraft industry leaders appeared before the War Contracts Subcommittee of the Senate in connection with the George-Murray Bill (S-1730), which is designed to meet industry's postwar problems in general.

Aircraft and shipbuilding will be the biggest postwar problem children, industrially speaking, for neither will have established markets for their products. This is in contrast to the automobile and refrigerator industries, for example, which will return to peacetime tasks with a minimum of upset, and unprecedented markets for their outputs.

It is no secret that in the case of aircraft, its leaders will be happy to be able to retain 20 percent of the 2,100,000 workers now employed in that industry.

The industry testimony, presented on behalf of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America by E. E. Wilson, United Aircraft; Harry Woodhead, Consolidated Vultee Aircraft; Joseph T. Geuting, General Aircraft; and J. Carlton Ward, Fairchild; is based on two very substantial premises.

The first is that we must have a National Air Policy which will provide for our continued preeminence in both military and commercial aviation, which means that Uncle Sam must maintain a large airforce to keep the peace and encourage civilian flying in all forms.

The second is that adequate measures must be provided for prompt termination of war contracts; for disposal of aircraft; for manpower demobilization; for disposal of plants. The size of these problems depends greatly on what steps the nation takes to maintain its superiority.

In answering eight questions propounded by Senator James E. Murray, father of the George-Murray Bill, the manufacturers set forth that America was unprepared, as far as aircraft and pilots were concerned, in 1917 and again in 1941, because we had let aviation development and manufacture lapse and had let the industry become moribund. On both occasions, they testified, we were saved by our allies, who fought off our enemies until we could get men and equipment into action.

The industry leaders now contend that we must be prepared for the next war, and that whatever we spend will be economical in the face of possible loss of territory, liberty and life. Next time, they warned, in all probability, the enemy will strike like lightning—no other nation or nations will be able to act as a buffer for us.

The aircraft manufacturers have designed a blue print to avoid utter chaos in their industry when the guns cease firing. These business executives are to be congratulated on their vision and resourcefulness—it will be no fault of theirs if there is not an orderly reconversion of their industry from war to peacetime production, with a minimum of labor dislocation, when Germany and Japan have cried "enough."

Hints on Etiquette

It is rule to whisper to one person when another is close by. It is likely to make a sensitive person think the whisperers are saying something about him.

Today's Horoscope

A birthday today means that with your magnetic and strong personality, you have great powers for good or evil; people instinctively follow your lead. You are critical, rather opinionated, aggressive, adaptable, and your judgment is usually accurate. You enjoy music and try to make your home pleasant and attractive. Your next year calls for watchfulness and circumspection in love and domestic matters, also dealings with elders. Do not be over-trusting; avoid changes, and safeguard your health. Born today a child will exhibit a somewhat peculiar and perverse temperament and be difficult to understand. Patience and tact will be necessary to draw out the latent fine qualities.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. A spiked or toothed wheel, especially one on a spur.
2. All are sports employing a ball and also an instrument for striking.
3. Book-maker or bookie.

Many May Be True

George Creel emphatically declares that many of the stories about German atrocities in this war may be true. The fact that it was impossible to prove those in Belgium during the first World War, he says, has influenced Americans to discount what they read today.

As chairman of the Committee on Public Information, Creel was forced to reject officially the barbarities in Belgium and France because no body was ever set up to make a record of the crimes and criminals. In 1919, well after the Armistice, the Allies created a commission to study the charges of inhuman conduct, but it was not until 1921 that some 900 cases were laid before a German court. The farcical proceedings caused the Allies to quit in disgust after 12 were tried.

This time, however, the United Nations Commission for Investigation of War Crimes stationed in London, has been working since 1942. In every case sworn affidavits set forth the rape, torture or massacre in detail, and name the person or persons held responsible.

This commission charges the Germans with "abominable crimes" and there is no reason to discount their charges.

Home Medication for Child face of a medical emergency. Older people can perhaps to a certain extent treat their own emergencies, but babies and children are entirely dependent, so we will begin with them.

Convulsions are a terrifying spectacle in a child and the parents almost invariably become panic-stricken. But the condition is not usually as serious as it looks, and responds to very simple household remedies. In fact, convulsions are quite common in childhood. The newly forming delicate nervous system of the child is readily upset by causes that would have no effect on the adult. The picture of a convulsive seizure can be mistaken for nothing else—the staring eyes, the rigid body shaken by spasms, unconsciousness, the contortions of the face and rigidity of the neck tell the story clearly at a glance.

The commonest cause of convulsions in children is fever, and a fever as high as 106 nearly invariably causes a convulsion in a small child. Therefore the first thing to do after the convulsion is over is to take the child's temperature and, if it is high, strip off the clothes and put the child in a tepid bath of 90 degrees. A colder or hotter bath is dangerous, the cold bath contracting the superficial blood vessels of the skin and driving the blood to the internal organs and thus possibly inducing another convulsion. Only when no fever is present or the bath does not calm the muscular irritability down should sedatives be given. The second commonest cause of convulsions in childhood is intestinal putrefaction, so an enema is indicated.

Croup

Croup, an old fashioned name, may be retained to designate a combination of hoarseness, barking or rasping cough, spasm of the vocal cords so that the breath comes and goes with difficulty, with long drawn crowing or wheezing sounds. Because the child usually awakens at night with this set of symptoms it makes the situation all the more alarming. The fear of the parents is always that croup is caused by diphtheria, but diphtheria is not as frequent as it used to be, and if the child has had its immunization with diphtheria toxoid it can be eliminated.

The commonest cause of croup is a bronchitis with laryngitis and thick, ropy mucus clinging to the vocal cords. The spasm of the muscles of the larynx is the thing to overcome and this can best be done by inducing vomiting. A teaspoonful of syrup of ipecac will do this, or, if this is not at hand, give a teaspoonful of melted butter, lard or olive oil every few minutes. Besides this, put a cold compress, made by wringing a wash cloth out of cold water, over the region of the larynx and hot water inhalation, which can be arranged by allowing steam from the spout of a teakettle to be breathed in. A medicament is not necessary with this steam, but if one is used, tincture of benzoin thrown on the water in the kettle is the best.

Nose Bleed

Nose bleed—if a nose bleed has lasted more than 10 minutes in spite of such simple treatment as rest, compression of the nose and cold applications to the face, a tampon consisting of gauze or cotton should be inserted deep in the nose. If you get a doctor he will probably saturate the tampon with adrenalin, but this is too dangerous a drug for household medicine.

PILOT TRAINING ON AT MANSFIELD AGAIN

Two Week's Ban Amended by OPA Commissioner

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—(P)—Continuation of pilot training for 78 persons at the Mansfield Air-Port was permitted today as Office of Price Administration District Commissioner Charles A. Rogers amended the two-weeks ban on the Harrington Air Service, operators of the field.

Declaring that "full evidence of flight schedules, payrolls and contracts justifies continuance of instruction," Rogers said the original ban on pleasure flying still holds. "Only Army and Navy planes and cargo carriers may be fueled by the Harrington concern until it becomes a licensed dealer," he said.

Fueling of private planes was prohibited after J. R. Harrington, president of the firm, admitted selling 7,000 gallons of aviation gasoline which was given to him for the army pilot training program, Rogers reported.

THE REST OF MY LIFE WITH YOU

CHAPTER FORTY

"Try not to hate me for this," Judith said steadily. "Matthew has said it is a whim. I'm not. I'm trying to save us both. I'm smiling, a strained, tight smile. I'm rapidly becoming neurotic. I'll end up as one of those women who have regular nervous breakdowns, if I go on living this way."

After a rather long silence, Mary remarked, "Perhaps your going away will help and now for some news: Lynn and I are going to be married."

"Darling, I'm so glad," Judith laid her arms across the older woman's knees and looked up at her, her eyes shining. "I didn't think I'd be happy about anything ever," she said, "but I am about this. It's what I've wanted for you."

"I know. And something you said, last autumn, had a good deal to do with it," Mary told her.

"Possibly. Anyway, before Christmas we're to be married and go on a cruise."

"You haven't told Matthew?" asked Judith.

"It's silly, but I'm afraid to—"

Mary paused, then said, "I didn't realize how happy I could be."

"May I tell Mother? She'll be so pleased."

"Of course . . . after I've . . ."

"Told Matthew?" Judith rose.

"I must go now. There are a hundred things to see to. Mary, Matthew will be all right. Olga and Nils can look after him . . . and you, I suppose, as you always have."

She bent and kissed her mother-in-law who, in parting, said softly, "I have no right to try to make you alter your decision. You know how I feel . . . and that no matter what happens I shall always love you, my dear."

When the door closed, Mary went to the windows and stood looking out at the gray sky and the idle flakes of snow which came swirling down. She wondered what Lynn would say when he learned of this. Her heart tightened and then accelerated its even beating. She would see him tonight.

Judith left for Chicago on the Twentieth Century. Matthew had spoken to her only when Nils or Olga were present during the last three days. He came in now as she was directing the closing of her luggage and dismissed Olga shortly.

When they were alone . . . "Just what have you told the servants?" he demanded.

"That I am going west for a visit, that they are to look after you while I am gone."

"Thanks. I wanted to get our stories straight, that's all. He moved forward, stumbled over a bag and kicked it, like a child in a temper. "If I thought I could make you see reason by half kidding you—"

"That would hardly be conducting."

"Judith—"

"Don't touch me—don't!"

"You admit it," Matthew declared in triumph. "You admit that "If I take you in my arms, you won't have the strength to leave me or the will." "The will," she repeated slowly, "the will."

"Well," boomed Matthew, "what I said the other night holds: If you go, you needn't come back."

She said, after a moment, "Very well. Please call Nils now, it's time the car was here."

Matthew opened the door and called Nils. A moment later he went out and got into his own car and drove to the office. He had no appointments but it was a refuge to him. Everyone would be gone, Elizabeth with her too intimate knowledge of himself and his wife, all the other people. He could sit at his desk and try to think this out.

He sat there and watched the clock. Her train had left now, the red carpet had been rolled up. The Century would be approaching Harmon. He got up, left the office, and drove to his mother's.

Mary was not astonished to see him. He saw, abstractedly, that she was looking exceptionally well. After greetings, he said, without preliminary, "Judith's left me."

"She was here yesterday," his mother responded. "Sit down, Matthew. Will you stay for dinner?"

"Thanks, no . . . I've got to go to Westchester on a call. She was here? You knew about this," he said accusingly.

"Yes," his mother told him. "I knew, as long ago as autumn, the step she was considering."

"You could have told me! You're on her side," he frowned.

He added, "My own mother. It's incredible. Women—"

Matthew shook his head as if to clear it. He went on, after a moment, "I've done nothing to warrant this. No man ever loved his wife more."

"Or given her less," said Mary, astonished at the sound of her own voice.

"That's Judith," he said; "an echo."

"No. I didn't understand when she told me, at first. I begin to now. It was my fault, Matthew, and then Irene's."

"What have you or Irene to do with it?" he asked angrily.

"We conditioned you, my dear; in all your relationships with us we were the givers and you the taker. I have been, she said slowly, "a rather negligent mother. I thought I was a good one. I was complacent about my sacrifice—"

"Sacrifice!"

"Yes, of course. I don't mean working for you, bringing you up, seeing that you had everything you needed to make you a strong man, successful in your profession. I loved you that. But sacrifice just the same . . . living in and for you, possessing no personal life, wanting none. I was smug, even vain about it. Other women remarried. I didn't. I had a son. I lived for him."

"And when Irene married you she lived for you too. Utterly subordinate. Perhaps she wouldn't have been as much so if she hadn't had my example before her. I was the perfect mother, so she would be the perfect wife. She lived for you too, and not with you."

"But Judith is different. She has opinions and principles, apart from you. She has her own strong personality and spirit. She can't be subordinate, Matthew. She has to stand level with you, on an equal ground, and you haven't permitted her to do that. She too has given you everything she has to give, but she expected return . . . and she didn't get it because Irene and I robbed you of that capacity. And made you so selfish."

Matthew was white now but his eyes were black with anger. He said, "You don't think much of me . . . you used Judith."

Mary declared, "I love you better than anything in the world, but I've ruined you. The proverbial mother-in-law, in reverse. I have created this situation."

He said heavily, "I told her if she left me she needn't come back."

His mother's eyes blazed like his own. "You told her that!"

"Well, why not?" he demanded. "She rates it."

"Because she wants to get away from you," asked Mary, "and think and come to some conclusion? Because she is trying to save your marriage?"

"Save it?" Matthew stressed. "Judith?"

"She's still young enough to believe in miracles," said his mother. She leaned forward and touched his hand, saying, "Helping you has been a habit with me for over thirty years. I can't break it. If there was any way in which I could help—"

He got up and went over to the window, then said, without turning, "There isn't." He added, "If you want to give up the apartment and come to live with me . . ."

"If I sorry, but I can't, Matthew."

"If you'd rather I came here . . ."

he began.

"No. I have other plans. I've been waiting to tell you this: Lynn and I are going to be married, very soon."

He swung around on her. "You and Lynn?"

"Yes. Are you so astonished?"

"No," he said, "Judy's been rooting for it." He stared at his mother, then asked, "Why?"

"Absurd as it may seem to you," she told him, "Lynn and I are in love. We want to be together. We want to grow old together, Matthew. I have been in love with Lynn for a long time, although I would not acknowledge it to myself. You see, I had come to see myself through your eyes, the woman I had made myself into, for your sake—a woman with no life of her own, apart from your interests. All I thought I wanted was the best for you."

France Found Peaceful After Buzz Bombs

By BARBARA WACE

HEADQUARTERS FORWARD ECHOLON NORMANDY—Telephones here will soon be buzzing. Thirty top-notch WAC switchboard operators flown to England a week after D-Day have landed in Normandy to work for the Signal Corps at Forward Echelon Headquarters.

They found the WAC area at headquarters already full of home comforts fixed up by the first WAC detachment which landed on Bastille Day, commanded by Capt. Isabel Kane, of Tacoma, Washington. Since Gen. Eisenhower has established headquarters in Normandy, officers and enlisted personnel, including WACs, are living in tents in a camouflaged area under constant patrol by heavily armed military police.

I talked to new arrivals resting after an exciting trip. Their traffic officer, Lt. Olive H. Dugan, of St. Louis, Mo., previously worked ten years with the Bell Telephone Company.

Sgt. Ruby M. O'Neal, of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., cleaning up the WAC apple orchard, told me she wasn't sorry to get away from the London buzzbombs, explaining:

"We reached England the day they started, and it seems peaceful here."

Like the first WAC detachment, the girls had a tremendous welcome from G. I.'s all along the route. Arriving in the concentration area tired and hungry, they lined up forchow. Everything was quiet until the first WAC stepped into the mess tent—Pvt. Gwendolyn Meeker, of Tampa, Fla.—when the boys started up the band, playing "Mr. Five by Five" as a surprise.

"They played again when we were drilling the next morning," said Cpl. Laura L. Carson, of Chicopee Falls, Mass. Laura, who speaks fluent French had an especially good time, for not only the G. I.'s but also all the French people she has talked to have told her how glad they are to see American girls in France. She has been kept busy translating for the other girls.

"This seems very luxurious here," said Pvt. Helen L. Braun, of St. Louis. "We slept on the floor of the officer's lounge on the ship. After we landed we slept on the beach—and slept wonderfully."

Sunbathed, tired but happy, ten more WACs attached to the headquarters of the Forward Echelon arrived at camp at 4 A. M., accompanied by Maj. Frances S. Cornick, of Norfolk, Va., assistant WAC staff director in the European Theater of Operations.

The girls will do clerical work mostly. Three are cooks: T-5 Jessie P. Wells, Texarkana, Tex., T-4 Orpha M. Powell, Hart, Tex., and Sgt. Evalyne McDine, East McKeesport, Pa.

Two of the youngest WACs are veterans. Pvt. Mavis Hill, 20, of Altadena, Cal., came over to join the British WAAFs in 1943 and transferred this May. She works for the Service of Supply.

Pfc. Joan Sissons, of Los Angeles, who was living in England with her mother, was a dental technician with the WAAF for three years before transferring this year to the WAC. Both say their old comrades are green with envy.

U. S. production of domestic wood pulp in 1943 is estimated at 9,050,000 tons—an 11.5 percent decrease from 1942.

Fite-Stark Vows Exchanged In Washington, D. C., on Thursday, August 17

Mrs. Ed Fite, Miss Barbara Fite and Mrs. Henry Brownell, Jr., Return After Week in That City

Miss Mary Elizabeth Fite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fite, East Court Street, this city, was united in marriage to Martin Charles Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stark, Thursday, August seventeenth, at the All Saints' Unitarian Church, 16th and Harvard Streets, N. W., in Washington, D. C.

The five o'clock ceremony was witnessed by approximately 250 friends and relatives of the couple. Officiating at the marriage was Dr. Seth R. Brooks.

Preceding the ceremony the church organist, Mrs. Katherine Hills Rawls, played a number of selections among which were "Vision," Rheinberger; "Romance," Debussy; "Elsa's Dream" from Lohengrin by Wagner; "Andante Cantabile" from Tschai-kowsky's Fifth Symphony; "Träume," from Wagner's "Tristram and Isolde" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach.

The half hour of organ music preceding the wedding ceremony was climaxed by chimes, after which the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March were heard as the wedding party approached the altar of the church. During the first portion of the ceremony the organist played softly "Ave Maria," while during the plighting of vows "Oh Perfect Love," by Mr. Everett Utecht.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Barbara Ellen Fite, of Newark, Ohio, wore a dusty pink crepe street-length frock with which she wore a small white hat with pink veiling. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom asked Lt. John Hayes Howard, U.S.N., to perform the duties of best man. Seating the many friends and relatives was Mr. Scott Dillon and Mr. Everett Utecht.

The altar of the church was

The remainder of the evening was spent playing bridge with score prizes going to Miss Ella Mae Kelly, Miss Edith Wilson and Mrs. Ernest Mitman. At the close of the evening, Miss Kelly was surprised with a personal shower of gifts useful in her chosen profession.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Vivi White and by cunning little Miss Kathryn Crocker.

Those attending the enjoyable affair were Misses Alta Barr, Helen Slavens, Essyle Bell, Clara Lee Naylor, Edith Wilson, Betty Cook, Mrs. Richard Crocker, Mrs. Ernest Mitman, Miss Elizabeth Theroman and Miss Ruth Kelly of Springfield, Miss Ella Mae Kelly of Columbus.

Martha Teeters Becomes Bride of David B. MacKenzie Here Sunday Morning

Following Ceremony, Wedding Dinner Held; Newly-weds Are To Reside at 4418 Neville Road, South Euclid

Immediately following the regular morning service at Grace Methodist Church, Sunday, August twentieth, Miss Martha Teeters, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Teeters of this city, was united in marriage to David Blythe MacKenzie of Cleveland.

The double ring vows were exchanged at the altar of the church, and officiating was the pastor, Rev. George B. Parkin. The altar was decorated with baskets of gladioli, which formed a perfect background for the solemn and impressive service.

As the church choir closed the morning service by singing the wedding hymn, "Oh Perfect Love," the bride and bridegroom entered the church and came to the altar.

For her marriage the bride chose a street-length frock of white pique with embroidered trim. She wore a fuchsia velvet hat with black net veiling trim. Her flowers were a harmonizing shoulder corsage.

After the ceremony the church organist, Miss Marian Christopher sounded the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March and the bride and bridegroom went to the rear of the church. Here an informal receiving line was formed with Dr. Ruth Teeters assisting the newly-weds.

A number of invited and out-of-town guests then went to the Teeters' home where a buffet dinner was served. The serving table was a picture of bridal loveliness, being covered with a white damask cloth and centered with the traditional wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridegroom and his bride. A color theme of ruby, pink and white was carried out in the appointments and decorations. At the smaller tables, which were arranged for the guests' convenience, centerpieces carrying out the color scheme, were tastefully arranged.

For going-away, the bride changed to a print silk jersey frock, the predominating color being fuchsia. With this she wore a black hat with fuchsia feather trim, and carried a velvet bag and black gloves.

After a week's stay at Cook Forest, the newly-weds will reside at 4418 Neville road, South Euclid, near Cleveland, where Mr. MacKenzie is an interior decorator of wide renown in Shaker Heights.

The bride received a Ph. B. degree from the University of Chicago, having graduated from Washington High School. She has been teaching in northern Ohio for several years, and plans to continue her teaching for the duration, due to the current shortage of teachers.

The ceremony was attended by a number of friends here. Among the out-of-town guests who attended the marriage and dinner which followed were Dr. S. A. Marshall of Jeffersonville; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph MacKenzie, of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKenzie, South Euclid; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Marsh, Cleveland Heights; Mrs. Blanche Cartwright, South Euclid; Miss Louise Cartwright, South Euclid; Miss June Hinman, Cleveland; Mrs. Lavina King, Miss Grace Albrecht and Miss Alice Ingram, all of Lyndhurst; Mrs. Bonnie Perry, South Euclid and Miss Blanche Robinson, Gallipolis.

Reds Split with Bue Jays As Bucky Also Stars at Bat

By JOE REICHLER (By the Associated Press)

Visions of an all-St. Louis world's series for the first time in the major league may be just that—a vision.

The pennant-hungry Browns of St. Louis watched their first place lead dwindle to a mere three and a half games over the Boston Red Sox as they bowed twice yesterday to the cellar-dwelling Washington Senators 4-2 and 12-1 to suffer their fourth straight defeat, their longest losing streak of the year.

Dutch Leonard had little trouble defeating the Browns in the opener, limiting them to four hits. The Senators pounded three Brownie hurlers for 17 hits to win the nightcap.

Red Sox Win Two

The Red Sox became a definite pennant threat by vanquishing the Cleveland Indians twice, 8-6 and 11-4. They pounded out 26 hits in the twin bill, 16 of them in the nightcap. Rookie Red Cecil won his second game in the finale.

The Detroit Tigers swept a pair from the New York Yankees 4-3 and 9-8, thus taking over third place from the Yankees.

The Pittsburgh Pirates increased their second-place National League lead over the third-place Cincinnati Reds to two games by conquering the Brooklyn Dodgers twice, 10-7 and 7-1.

Four Dodgers—Bobby Bragan, Luis Olmo, Whitlow Wyatt and acting-manager, Charlie Dressen—were banished from the games for arguing.

After losing the opener to the Chicago Cubs for their 13th straight defeat, thus tying the longest losing slump in Giant history, the New York Giants ended their slump in the second, 3-1.

-Spying- On Sports By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Looks as if the national tennis championships at Forest Hills Labor Day week-end will be strictly a feminine show. . . . Lieut. Don McNeill shouldn't have any competition for the men's title if he's in condition, but the girls not only will have all the top-flight stars on hand but so far this season they haven't paid the slightest attention to form (that is, playing form). . . . Any one of a half dozen girls might win. . . . Moe Berg, baseball's most accomplished linguist, is attached to the staff of Lt. Col. Charles Poletti, military governor of Rome.

Suggestion Need

Arguing that baseball "hasn't changed since feds first were ruled as strikes," Dr. Clarence Runge of New Haven, Conn., proposed six-inning games with four outs in each inning. . . . His idea is that players would "sprit" all the way, just as runners have stepped up the pace for the mile instead of coasting through three-quarters and then cutting loose. . . . Also, "There would be three less times for the players to warm up between innings," Runge adds. . . . That's our idea of a real improvement.

Monday Matinee

Co-coach Walt Kiesling maintains that the Cardinals-Pittsburgh combine can win the National Football League Championship if it can come up with a capable passer. . . . And if we had some ham, we'd have some ham and eggs. . . . When Coach Frank Howard noted the size of his 17-year-old Clemson footballers, he remarked: "At least when we have a strong wind now we don't have to herd 'em in barracks to keep 'em from blowing away. . . . It may be another matter when the Tigers have a strong opponent."

13-year-old Ohio Swim Sensation Seeks Distance Title Held by Jap

AKRON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Jimmy McLane, 13-year-old swimming sensation, is fighting a private war with the Japs, and he hopes for unconditional victory at Chicago this week.

The water wizard's sole ambition since winning the National Junior and Senior long-distance titles recently has been to capture a world's championship, not just any world's championship but the 1500-meter freestyle title held by T. Amano of Japan.

Although Jimmy has just finished grade school, experts say the Firestone Club star has a good chance of bettering Amano's

UNKNOWN WINS PGA TITLE BY BEATING BYRON NELSON IN FINAL OF TOURNAMENT

By RUSS NEWLAND

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 21.—(AP)—He wasn't given much of a chance when the tournament opened, in fact was dismissed with the classification of a "comer," but Bob Hamilton carried the title of 1944 National P. G. A. Golf champion on his name today.

The "darkhorse" from Evansville, Ind., 28 years old and playing in this tournament for the first time, defeated Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., 1 up over 36 holes yesterday. It was the No. 1 upset of the tournament, in fact the biggest reversal in 26 championships.

Hamilton beat the country's best golfer when he beat Nelson the final green to receive the acclamation of more than 7,000 fans. And in defeat, Nelson still was the best golfer of the field, when considered on a medal play basis. The man from Ohio played 196 holes in thirty shots under par.

Only on the final day, when he carded two 70 rounds, did he fail to complete eighteen holes on the 60s.

Yet he won only second money of $1500. Hamilton, who played 205 holes during the seven days in 12 under par figures, had it over his rival on the last day. He posted a 70, then a 69 and his one-hole margin for the tense match play battle paid off richly—$3500 worth.

The two matched shot for shot in the first eighteen, racking up two under par 70s and a dead even match. Hamilton won the 19th and it was the first time Nelson had been down to an opponent during the tournament. Hamilton made it 2 up at the 23rd, lost one hole, then went 2 up again at the 29th. Nelson got the match square at the 33rd but Hamilton snatched the lead again on the next green.

He held it then, until the contest came to its natural end on the 36th.

Nelson's putting touch cost him the championship. He three-putted the 9th, 16th and 29th, losing those holes because of it. He missed many another putt that would have won holes for him.

Hamilton carded 36-34-70 and 35-34—69 for his final rounds. Nelson put up 36-34-72 twice. Manito's par is 36-36-70.

Both Nelson and Hamilton left today for Chicago where they will play in the Tam O'Shanter Open, starting August 24.

Springfield Girls Softball Champs

COLUMBUS, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The Springfield Fink and Heine Girls' softball team sported new jewelry today—the 1944 state crown.

The Springfielders won the title by beating the Youngstown General Fireproofing outfit, 2 to 1, here yesterday in a seven-inning contest.

The Youngstown team opened with a run in the first stanza but Springfield knotted the count in its half of the second and punched over the winning tally in the last frame.

Youngstown entered the finals by beating Elyria Hahn Manufacturers, 4 to 3, in a game which went eight innings. Elyria earlier had bested the Dayton Suchers, last year's champions, 2 to 1.

Championship game lineups: Youngstown General Fireproofing 100 000 0-1 1 7 Springfield Fink and Heine—010 000 1-2 6 1

25 Answer First Call For Football

The championship tilt between Wilson's Hardwaremen and the API Warworkers officially will close the city's summer softball program Monday night, but several other games are scheduled between now and September 1. The title tangle will begin at 8:30 P.M.

Wednesday night, Wilson's will meet the Model Cleaner team from Wilmington. The Cleaners are the outfit the Wilson team defeated in the last inning of a hair-raiser Friday night. The score was 1-0. The Cleaners are coming back to see if they can trim the Hardwaremen on a second try.

Friday the API Warworkers are to meet the International Harvesters from Springfield. It will be the first time for both teams. The Harvesters are reported to be top-notchers in Springfield and have been playing other outside league teams. The contest promises to be a real thriller.

Other games are expected to be scheduled before the end of the season. The last game slated to be played at Wilson Field will be September 1, with Wilson's meeting the Bobbs Chevrolet aggregation from Columbus.

More than 100 have actually participated in playing the league round this summer and even more fans have come to watch and cheer. "It has been a real recreation and George Miraban has done a swell job again this summer. We are sure going to miss George and wish him the best of everything in his new position," Robert Craig, YMCA recreation chairman, said Monday morning.

All funds over expenses will be turned into the City League YMCA fund as usual. Surplus cash from each out-of-town game has gone back into the fund.

Eagles Lose But Are Not Discouraged

The Eagle baseball team took a 5 to 1 beating at the hands of the tough Merchant team at Sabina Sunday. But, you can take it from Robert Bailey, general factotum of the Aerie, that the boys are far from downhearted and are nursing hopes of revenge before the season is over.

Sunday's game was the first of a series of three which has been arranged for successive Sundays. The next game will be played here at Wilson Field and the finale will be back at Sabina.

Bailey, although he has no official connection with the ball team, follows its ins and outs closely and sympathetically. He

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—AP—A firm cotton market and light offerings caused grain futures to rally today.

Rye at one time was as much as 1 1/2 cents higher than the previous close. Local traders sold at the opening, then switched to buying when prices held firm. Offerings were light and the upturn followed.

Resting orders and the strength of rye caused wheat to advance after early weakness. Trade was light.

Arrival of a large cargo of Canadian oats Saturday was reflected in early weakness in that market but prices turned firm when Commission Houses took all offerings. Some selling of the September contract apparently was for northwestern interests.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 1/2 higher than Saturday's finish, September $1.54 1/2. Oats were up 1/2 to 5/8, September $1.07 1/2. Rye was 1/2 to 1/4 higher, September $1.15.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—AP—Scattered utilities and peace-rated industrials attracted modest bids in today's stock market while many leaders seemed to lose some of their recent popularity.

A high degree of selectivity was evident after a quiet and fairly steady opening. Near the fourth hour, trends were rather obscure with fractional variations predominating.

More attention, marketwise, was given the rapid sweep of the Allies in Europe in the light of reconversion prospects at home and doubts regarding the latter still were sufficiently numerous to inspire considerable switching of accounts and the trimming of holdings. Political optimism and earnings prospects were bolstering influences.

PARKING METERS MAY BE ORDERED WITHIN 2 WEEKS

City Manager Advertises Now For Bids To Purchase 230 Needed Here

Parking meters for Washington C. H. may be on order two weeks from today.

City Manager Walter Stambaugh has advertised legally for bids between now and Labor Day for the 230 parking meters it is estimated will be needed here. The ordinance authorizing installation of meters was passed at an emergency session of the City Council Friday night.

The meters which will be installed here will be the penny-progressive nickel type—in which motorists may buy 12 minutes parking time for one cent and 60 minutes for a five cent piece. The meters will be automatic.

With the meters, parallel parking will come between North Street and Hinde Street on Court Street. Other meters will be installed on portions of Fayette, Main and Hinde Streets.

Stambaugh said Monday morning the comments he had heard on the council's decision to install meters had been favorable. He repeated his explanation that the parallel parking would be instituted on the recommendation of the state highway department.

WASHINGTON C. H. GIRL 3RD IN CONTEST

Over 3,000 Essays Submitted Elks' Statewide Project

An essay written by a Washington C. H. girl on "My Part in Winning the War," was awarded third place in the statewide contest sponsored by the Ohio Elks Association, an announcement just released by the Office of Price Administration, co-sponsor of the contest, through the county's Ration Board said.

Lucinda Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Harper and a seventh grade pupil, is to be given a $25 War Bond for her third place essay selected from among the more than 3,000 submitted from schools in cities large and small, all over the state.

The first prize, a $100 War Bond, is to go to Iola M. Schaffstall of the New Washington Public School, Crawford County, and the second prize of a $50 War Bond is to go to Gloria Von Kenel, a pupil of St. Mary's Catholic School in Chillicothe. Winners of the fourth and fifth prizes, Fred Cox of Hocking County and Wanda Korcek of Toledo, are to get $15 worth of War Stamps and the next 20 in the contest will get $5 worth of War Stamps.

Essays for the contest for seventh and eighth grade pupils were written during the closing weeks of school, as part of the pupil's class work, before the summer vacation. All of those among the first five prize winners, except the Washington C. H. girl, were in the eighth grade. Neither Miss Rosalyn Wilson, her English teacher, nor Lucinda kept a copy of the third place essay, which presumably will be kept either by the OPA or Elks Association along with the others.

The first prize winner is to be the guest of the Elks at the annual convention at Cedar Point next week.

The committee of judges for the contest composed of Don Ebricht, chairman, the treasurer of state, E. Allen Hallms of Ohio State University and Joseph A. Kleinfelter, New Washington publisher, met in Columbus to select the final winners, the announcement said.

MOSQUITO WAR BEING PRESSED IN CITY AGAIN

Catch Basins and All Ponds And Pools Where They Can Breed Are Oiled

Mosquito war is on here again. City employees set out Monday morning to give all the catch basins in Washington C. H. another oiling to kill the larvae breeding in them now. City Manager Walter Stambaugh said.

Manholes, ponds, pools of stagnant water will be given the treatment—a thorough coating of oil on the surface which kills the "wrigglers."

Clouds of mosquitoes in nearly every section of town makes sitting on porches or lawns impossible. Mosquitoes have sneaked up and displaced the weather as the chief topic of conversation when a bunch of Washingtonians get together.

Stambaugh said the stagnant pools in the creeks would not be oiled because it would kill the fish in them if they were treated.

numerous heavy industries, has been hit twice previously.

Possibility that a big naval base also was a target was seen in the Japanese statement that both raids were directed at "Northern Kyushu and the western Chogoku district." Office of War Information identified "Chogoku" as Shikoku, a naval base on the main island of Honshu. The Germany DNB Agency, which relayed the Japanese broadcast, however, said it was the island of Shikoku, east of Kyushu.

A quick follow-up raid sent a smaller force of B-29s over the same northern Japan area Sunday night. The two raids cost the Japanese 12 planes destroyed, 12 probably destroyed and ten damaged. Tokyo admitted some damage.

Jap Cruiser Sunk
The heavy cruiser went down Saturday, Gen. Joseph Stillwell's headquarters reported, under three direct hits and one probable.

Gen. MacArthur's communique today said the Japanese were pulling their planes from the cluster of islands shielding the southern Philippines northwest of Allied-held New Guinea. Halmahera, largest of the Moluccas, was the most important of the islands stripped. Japan's abandoned airdromes were being ripped up as the enemy withdrew to bases beyond Allied bomber range.

"This will make possible an advance westward without the necessity of costly frontal assaults to clear the way," MacArthur said. Westward from New Guinea lies his objective: The Philippines. The enemy is leaving behind many garrisons incapable of major action, MacArthur. His airmen continued striking at bases from Timor to Bougainville.

Neutralizing air attacks continued against Rota and Pagan in the Marianas Thursday and Friday. Tokyo followed with an admission that Rota was hit again yesterday along with Yap farther south and Wotje in the Marshalls.

Furious Chinese lunged at Japanese trying to reinforce the Hunan offensive. Though Hengyang was lost, the Chinese resistance denied Japan the fruit of its capture—control of the Hankow-Canton Railway.

Chinese in Yunnan Province kept digging at Japanese holed up in Tengchung and captured a hill position clearing the way for an assault on Lungling, another southwestern China base vital to Allied hopes of reopening the Burma Road.

HEAT WAVE BREAK MARKS WEEK END

Cooler Weather Is on Way Forecasts Say

The cooler weather which has been enjoyed the past several days, started the week off Monday again with a reading of 71 at 8 A. M.

While the temperature reached the 90 mark during Sunday afternoon, the morning and evening were cool enough to be comfortable.

The cooler weather has been a pleasant foretaste of autumn, and with football practice starting this week, school children throughout the city and county are beginning to get the urge to start the coming school year's activities again.

And cooler weather is on the way, if the forecaster knows whereof he speaks.

BURIAL FLAGS FOR SERVICEMEN AT POST OFFICE

Only One Has Been Issued From Post Office Here, Passmore Says

Burial flags for World War II dead are available to relatives at the Post Office, Emmet Passmore, postmaster, announced today.

Passmore said only one flag had been issued from the Post Office and added he felt the public did not know the flags are there for the asking. In substance, the instructions are:

In case of any person who has died while in the military or naval service of the United States after May 27, 1941, and before the end of the war in which the United States is now engaged, the Administration of Veterans' Affairs is authorized and directed to issue, free of cost to the nearest relative of such person, a flag of the United States.

The purpose of the act is to authorize the Veterans Administration through designated agencies to supply a flag to the next of kin in case of persons dying in service outside the continental limits of the United States.

These flags are available at the Post Office and the next of kin may have them by calling at the Post Office and making proper application.

You can also use window cleaner on mirrors and picture glass.

These men don't know the true facts. Do you?

REMARKS like these are not uncommon. Perhaps you've heard them made by your friends and neighbors—men and women whom you rightly consider good American citizens, upright and thoroughly well-intentioned. You wouldn't think of questioning their patriotism, either.

Yet, on this matter of gasoline rationing, such remarks mean just one of two things: Misunderstanding, or lack of correct information.

You, as a motorist, have so much at stake in this matter of the nation's gasoline supply that you certainly should know the true facts. And we of the Petroleum Industry have so much at stake that we are bound to give them to you with utmost frankness.

This, then, is the true situation:

There is not plenty of gasoline—not even here in the Central States.

Our armed forces get first call on the nation's gasoline supply, of course. Their needs are tremendous—have been growing steadily greater month by month since we entered the war—will, undoubtedly, increase still further in the months to come. Huge as these military needs are, they're being met—and will be.

When that is done, however, there just isn't enough gasoline left over to permit civilian motorists to drive "as usual." Fortunately, there is enough to give everybody some gasoline. IF—if it can be shared fairly, and only if it is so shared.

That's why there must be rationing, and that's why it's to your own personal, selfish interest to help make rationing work. If it doesn't work, somebody is going to go without any gasoline—it could be you.

Furthermore, in the critical months to come, if our present system of gasoline rationing fails, much more drastic measures for control will be imposed—that you can depend on. Don't let it happen!

How you can help make gas rationing work: Don't apply for more gas than you really need. Get into a ride-sharing club and stick to it. Endorse all your gas coupons now—don't give any away. Don't take extra gas or coupons from anyone.
